Kentucky Defeats Vandy By 48-24 As Curtis Stars; Kittens Smash Morehead

Rupps Take Lead In First

CATS LEAD 24-10
AT HALFWAY MARK

Hagan, Walker, And Combs
Play Final Net Game
In Alumni Gym

With the squad's three graduating seniors occupying starting positions, Kentucky last night sank the Vanderbilt Commodores, 48-24, in a slow listless game in Alumni gym.

The victory marked the second conference win the Cats have registered over the luckless Commodores this season. The Wildcats performed without the services of their sensational sophomore guard, Layton Rouse, who was fouled out of the game by a severe cold. Curtis, hitting the basket from all angles, led the scorers with 21 markers, the season's high for Wildcat scorers.

After the first 30 seconds, when Oppen cut in to drop a crisp through the hoop, it was apparent that the Cats would have no trouble in subduing the golden-shirted invaders. At the half the Cats had clawed their way to a 24-10 advantage. After the intermission Kentucky started a scoring parade that ran the count to 30-12 before the Commodores broke the spree with a long shot by Hanna.

Kentucky, after playing wild ball for the first few minutes, soon settled down to a steady passing game, but even then their hitting was not up to par as they passed up many scoring opportunities. To Combs, starting his first game as a Wildcat regular, goes the honor of playing the most aggressive game, as he held Vanderbilt's captain and star forward, Hunter, to 4 points.

When the game was five minutes old in the second half, with Kentucky leading 30-12, Coach Rupp began substituting for his starting pupils and from then to the close of the fracas, a steady stream of players wended their way from the bench. Even this gesture failed to hold the score down as Clugish and Head, the two extremes of the squad in height kept the score steadily mounting.

Clugish supplied the customers with their best comedy by time and time again practically freezing the ball under the Kentucky goal by tugging it up and down, as he attempted to slap one down the hoop. He did succeed in cramming one down the goal to the delight of the fans, who thronged the Alumni band-box.

Curtis, playing the greatest game of his career, led the Kentucky scoring by rifling 21 points into the cord, followed by Hagan with 9. The remainder of the scoring was evenly distributed among the remaining 19 players who participated in the affair. Rymer and Little were high for Vandy with 5 points each. The game was remarkable from the standpoint that not a performer on either team was banished on fouls.

In the preliminary, Kentucky's Kittens kept intact their record of no losses to a college or high school team by scratching out a 33-18 win over the Morehead State Teachers College first year team.

On top at the half by 15-11, the young Cats returned to the floor and set up an almost flawless defense that kept Morehead from scoring until 12 minutes of the second half had elapsed.

The game was enlivened by a near fight that terminated by Boyd, Morehead forward, being banished from the game when he showed his inclination to at least make a fight of the contest.

Betty Bakhaus, Tri-Delt, Re-Elected Band Sponsor

Lexington Co-ed Is Named
From Field
Of 23

Re-election of Betty Lou Bakhaus from a group of 23 sorority and independent girls as sponsor of the "Best Band In Dixie" was held late yesterday afternoon in secret balloting conducted by the entire membership of the band.

Her re-election came after the band tabled a motion to restrict band sponsors to one year of leadership. Following the motion the contestants paraded in front of the group. Selections had previously been made by a committee who chose two candidates from independent contestants and sorority nominees.

Following in second and third place were Virginia Smith, Lexington, and pledge to Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and Vashiti Albert, Harlan, Independent.

Miss Bakhaus is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and lives in Lexington. She succeeded Rosemary Clinkscales of Williamstown, Ky., who also served two years. Other candidates were: Lucy Anderson and Dorothy Anne Young, Chi Omega; Ruth Gay, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Peggy Payne and Sarah Renaker, Alpha Delta Theta; Virginia Way and James Charlotte Sanders, Kappa Delta; Nancy Orrell, Alpha Gamma Delta; Elaine Allison and Marjorie Doyle, Alpha Xi Delta; Dorothy Collier and Estelene Lewis, Delta Delta Delta; Winifred Jayne and Ruth Bryant, Delta Zeta; Hattie Rich and Sarah Katherine Fisher, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Jean Marie McConnell, Beatrice Baldwin, Ranelle Palmore, and Virginia Brown, Independents.

Farmers Advised To Plant Trees

In a speech given before a luncheon meeting of the Fayette county farm bureau, Saturday, N. R. Elliot, field agent in horticulture for the Agricultural extension division, warned farmers of the necessity for planting trees on farms and for reforesting submarginal land.

The session was the first of a series of eight luncheon meetings to be held this year and was attended by approximately 35 members and guests.

Dr. Elliot pointed out in his speech that the soil conservation program allotted a five-acre allowance on their crop basis for every acre planted in trees according to government specifications. Trees, he stated, may be obtained at a very low cost from the state forestry department at Louisville.

Young Violinist Acclaimed On Sunday Vesper Program

By ALLENBY E. WINER

The 150 selected voices that comprise the Jefferson county elementary school chorus, under the direction of Miss Helen McBride, rendered an ambitious concert Sunday in Memorial hall at the eleventh vespers program.

However, it remained for Frank Schooler, unheralded 13-year-old violinist, appearing as soloist on part three of the lengthy program, to win the lion's share of commendation from an audience of 800 people.

Schooler, who is an eighth grade pupil at Greathouse school, played only two selections, Massenet's "Thais," and "Legende," by Wieniawski, but so in evidence were the qualities that make for the accomplished artist, he distinguished himself as a truly promising virtuoso. It is regrettable that he was not given a more extensive part, though he did accompany the chorus in the program's climax, Franck's "Dies Irae." The performance consisted of five separate divisions, which included mostly a variety of light themes sung in a gay manner. The concluding group changed in tempo, comprising three slow-moving pieces, "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod; "The Green Cathedral," by Hahn, and "Father Most Merciful."

These possessed a solemnity that was pious, and the chorus, which is composed of unchanged voices,

DONNELLY TO BE NEW ROTC HEAD

New Colonel Will Fill Post
To Take Up Duties At End
Of Semester

Owing to the policy of the War department of rotating assignments, Lieut. Col. Howard Donnelly will succeed Lieut. Col. E. E. Brewer as colonel of the R. O. T. C. regiment and head of the military science department, it was announced yesterday. The new colonel will officially take up his duties at the end of the semester.

Lieut. Colonel Donnelly, a native of Connecticut, is now stationed in Hawaii. He will arrive at the University early in May. He was graduated from West Point in 1915. He attended New York University, where he received the degree of Doctor of Law.

He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff and the advanced course of the Infantry School. Lieut. Colonel Donnelly has an efficiency rating of "Superior."

The War department permits an officer to stay at one post for four years, but due to Colonel Brewer's admirable work here he was allowed to overstay his appointment two years. Colonel Brewer has been transferred to the eleventh regiment of infantry, located at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. A former order sending Lieut. Col. Thomas F. Taylor to the post at the University has since been revoked.

Band To Sponsor Concert Programs By White Hussars

Symphonic Ensemble of Eight
Artists To Be Directed
By Herbert Petrie

Presented under the auspices of the University band, for the purpose of raising money for band equipment, the White Hussars, a symphonic and operatic ensemble, composed of eight trained artists and directed by Herbert Petrie, noted cornetist, will perform on matinee and night concert programs Wednesday, February 23, at Memorial hall.

The afternoon program, planned for children, will start at 2:30 p. m. The night concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

Considered by authorities in band and orchestra circles as one of the finest organizations of its kind, the Hussars have been highly acclaimed by audiences throughout the United States. Their brilliant demonstrations of artistry and musicianship have met the demands of the most exacting critics of the nation.

Every member of the octet reveals years of careful study and training in his particular field, and an unusual cultural background, according to the sponsor.

Adding to the expert presentation and fine quality of their performances, are the special lighting effects, stage technique, colorful uniforms and co-ordination of movement, which blend to win the spontaneous approval and applause of every audience.

Wednesday's performance will feature a quintette in brass, an operatic tenor, soprano, instrumental soloist, harp soloist, selections from overtures, operatic gems, and symphonic arrangements of familiar classics.

As Athletic Director Former Line Coach Would Suggest Ab Kirwan For Grid Mentor

Athletic Armistice

(AN EDITORIAL)

When the Selection committee today recommended Bernie Shively for athletic director and he in turn recommended Ab Kirwan for head football coach, it drew together the curtain on the last scene of the University's Reorganization project which was founded January 10, by the varsity football team and brought about vast reforms in our sports administration.

It is fitting at this moment that every student of the school and citizen of the state pledge himself to avid support of the renaissance. We have all realized that Kentucky's athletics have flourished in some departments, partly blamable on a lack of players and partly on incompetent management. Indeed we are fortunate in having two capable men available to recruit into these important positions. The KERNEL hopes that these gentlemen will comprehend the present unique athletic set-up here and vow to treat their jobs with all the seriousness and ability they possess.

Mr. Shively has been a friend of the campus for years. A scholar and an athlete, he coached great defensive lines here during the reign of Harry Gamage. As a sport official he is popular throughout the state. He is well acquainted with all problems.

Mr. Kirwan was captain of the Wildcat grid team in 1925. Since then he has been an excellent coach at Louisville high schools. Being an alumnus, he too, is cognizant of the necessity for new methods which must be introduced for successful athletics here.

THE KERNEL, speaking for the student body, welcomes these men into their positions and promises unwavering support in behalf of their programs for the advancement of the University into the select circle of intercollegiate athletics.

Gray Gordon, Paula Stone To Sub For Ina Ray Hutton

Serious Illness Of Leader Will Prevent Melodears From Playing For Military Ball

Due to the serious illness of Ina Ray Hutton, who, with her Melodears, was originally scheduled to play for the Military Ball, Gray Gordon and Paula Stone, popular young cinema actresses, will swing at the annual brass-button festival from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday night.

Jeanne Pat Belt, Midway, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, was elected from nine contestants to reign as queen of the annual ball, it was announced Saturday by a group of local newspaper men, faculty members, and photographers who acted as judges. Her attendants will be Evelyn McAlister, of Clifton, N. J., and Jeanne Barker of Louisville, both of whom are members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

A telegram from Bert Gervis, of Consolidated Radio Artists Inc., explaining the inability of Miss Hutton to appear, was received by Jack Shanklin, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

It reads: "Under the orders of Dr. J. M. Huston, 1614 Roosevelt Road, Chicago, Ina Ray Hutton will be prohibited from making any appearance due to a very serious heart condition demanding rest for at least two months or more. Ina Ray Hutton and ourselves both sincerely regret her inability to appear for your military ball."

In an effort to bring another big-name band to the campus, Jack Shanklin, Coleman Judy, and Rodgers Baker, members of the committee on arrangements, went to Chicago last week to book Gordon and his orchestra.

New Law Building To Be Inspected

The College of Law will hold a general "open house" from 3:30 to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock February 25, for all those interested in inspecting the new law building. Students and faculty will be present to show visitors through the building. The entire student body is invited to visit the structure.

Athletic Committee's Nominations, Nine- Point Program Of Sports Reorganization Will Go To Board Of Trustees' Executive Committee For Approval At 10:30 A. M. Thursday

By Malcolm Patterson

Bernie Shively, acting head of the physical education department and former Wildcat line coach late Monday received the unanimous recommendation of the Athletic Council's Special Committee to become University Athletic Director.

Ab Kirwan, captain of the '26 Wildcat football team and present head football coach at du Pont Manual High School, Louisville, will be recommended for the post of head football coach here, Mr. Shively said immediately after the committee's announcement was made at President McVey's office.

President McVey said that Thursday he will announce the entire new athletic set-up, including the director, head football coach and the new Advisory Athletic Council.

The new administration is expected to get the approval of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees when it meets at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. The entire nine point program was passed by the old athletic council Friday, when Coach Chet Wynne's resignation was officially announced.

Monday's act of the committee was the last under the old Athletic Council. Members of the committee which gave Shively unanimous approval were Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, Dr. Frank Murray, William "Doc" Rodes and David Pettus. The committee was appointed by the old Athletic Council Friday to seek and to recommend an athletic director.

Under the new system coaches will not be given contracts but will be appointed for indefinite periods. Status of head coaches will be those of full professors.

Mr. Shively, who came here in the fall of 1927 as line and track coach under Former Coach Harry Gamage, issued a statement after the committee announcement in which he said "I fully realize my duties and responsibilities that go with my position. I also realize and want you to realize that there are duties and responsibilities that are yours. With your help and cooperation we will go forward; without it progress is impossible."

He addressed his statement to the President of the University, student body, the faculty, the alumni, and the citizens of the entire state.

"It will be my aim to have competent coaches in all phases of athletics," Mr. Shively stated. "My ambition is that each succeeding year will find us going forward until we reach the position in athletics that we rightfully deserve."

Shively's Statement

"In announcing my willingness to accept the position of athletic director at the University of Kentucky, I deem it expedient to make a statement at this time, not only to the President of the University, the student body, the faculty, the alumni, but to the citizens of the entire state, because this is your university.

"I fully realize my duties and responsibilities that go with my position. I also realize and want you to realize that there are duties and responsibilities that are yours. With your help and cooperation we will go forward; without it progress is impossible.

"It will be my aim to have competent coaches in all phases of athletics; coaches who will be an inspiration and an example for the students here at the University, as well as to every young man in the state.

"My hope is that we can have good teams; teams that play hard and to the fullest extent of their ability. If they do this, I feel proud of them and I believe you will have the same feeling.

"My ambition is that each succeeding year will find us going forward until we reach the position in athletics that we rightfully deserve."

Sherman Hinklebein, football captain, who played under Kirwan at Manual High, and Bill Boston, alternate football captain, last night telephoned their congratulations to Mr. Shively. Hinky also telephoned to Mr. Kirwan. Hinky said he is greatly pleased with the two appointments.

Mr. Shively said he would resign from his present post and accept the directorship when the executive committee of the Board of Trustees approves it.

He said he expects to assist the new head coach and that he may "done my togs" and go out on the field and help him. This indicated he may be line coach under Mr. Kirwan. Mr. Shively was an all-American at Illinois where he received his B. S. degree. He received an M. A. here.

Mr. Kirwan played here under Frank Murphy. He was graduated from Louisville Male High School, to which he returned as an assistant coach. He went from that school to the head coachship at Manual.

Regarding the policy of the new administration, Mr. Shively said that Coach Rupp's record speaks for itself and that he will most certainly be retained as head basketball coach.

He said that in all coaching positions he will try to obtain men who can assist each other in the various sports. S. A. "Daddy" Boles will be retained in some capacity in the new athletic department of the College of Arts and Sciences, Mr. Shively said.

A Writing Faculty

THE RECENT appearance of a book by Dr. J. S. Chambers brings to mind the multitude of other books, articles, and scientific treatises authored by members of the University staff. THE KERNEL wonders if the student of today does not take these publications a little too lightly, passing by them without realizing the personal significance.

Just what are the advantages of having a writing faculty?

In the first place, the publication of these articles has a deeper meaning than the mere appearance of the men's names in print. It signifies that we students are not being taught the identical theories and subjects that were offered to our grandfathers or fathers. It means that these instructors are doing intensive research, reading widely, and collecting facts to bring us new ideas regarding an ever-changing world. Briefly, the University through their efforts has life, and life usually signifies growth.

Secondly, and perhaps most important, is the recognition gained not only for the individual author, but for the University as a whole. Each bit of print appearing under the by-line of one of our staff members adds one more point to the prestige of our future. An employer will not be as interested in the letters, A. B., as in their source, and the better the job we seek, the more that source will mean.

Speaking metaphorically, there are two types of skins offered to college graduates today. A sheepskin usually signifies a progressive and writing faculty. A goatskin often means a stagnated faculty. It's all according to the "animal" from which the skin came.

Who Wants Smallpox

CASES of smallpox have felled persons in areas scattered throughout Kentucky and near-by states, reports Dr. J. S. Chambers, dispensary director. He warns that all students should be examined at the dispensary. He urges that all students not vaccinated and without a distinct scar be vaccinated immediately.

In this age there should be no necessity for a warning like this — especially among college men and women.

Smallpox is one of the oldest of epidemic diseases. Caused by a filterable virus, according to scientists, it respects no age, sex, occupation, or race, or the sanitary surroundings of individuals who contract it.

It is here.
The Solution?
Wholesale vaccination of all residents of the community. When fought there is no other epidemic disease which can be so satisfactorily combated as can smallpox.

It is imperative that we, who have assembled here from communities where small pox is raging again, prove to our neighbors and to our individual selves that we will not permit a description like this — "Smallpox causes one-tenth of all deaths, and one-fourth of mankind are either killed, crippled, or disfigured for life by it" — to be true in the twentieth century as it was in the eighteenth century.

Scavengers In The Postoffice

CERTAIN students, whether by accident or intent, have been tampering with postoffice boxes not belonging to them. For their information, THE KERNEL states that in doing so they perform an offense against federal law.

That it is quite possible to attempt to open another person's postoffice box by mistake is granted. When a process as stereotyped and automatic as the search for a box number is gone through every day, errors are probable. For these instances greater care in locating numbers is suggested.

To those who deliberately attempt to enter another's postoffice box THE KERNEL can only reiterate its warning that in so doing they commit a federal offense. Miss Carrie Bean, postmistress, has declared her intention to report any student found tampering with boxes. And, in the long run, Miss Bean and the federal law will win out.

Remedy For Ticket Book Transfer

THE NEWS that more than thirty "illegally transferred" athletic ticket books have been seized by federal investigators brings forth an old question.

Why should it be illegal to transfer student books?

There are times when students cannot or do not care to attend athletic contests. They were, at registration, given no choice in the matter of purchasing ticket books, and each time they do not attend an athletic event they may be considered as losing money. There is no reason why a perfectly valid admission should lie idle, especially when there is no refund from the University on unused tickets. Hence, it is only logical that a student should attempt to make good his investment by selling the ticket book to another person. Otherwise, he defrauds himself.

That, however, is a federal offense, because it involves non-payment of the amusement tax. One cannot argue with the federal government. Notwithstanding this, there is a solution. By charging an extra fee to take care of the amusement tax on each ticket, the University authorities could legalize the transfer of student books. This would make it possible for those unable to attend certain athletic events to recompense themselves, and would remove the danger of their losing their ticket books altogether. Likewise, it would remove the federal agents from the gates of campus contests. It is a simple solution, and a sure one.

Why not try it?

ON THE LAM

By GEORGE LAMASON

AT THE Military Ball Saturday the campus will swing to Ina Ray Hutton and her all-girl band. Advance reports say that Ina herself may do a little swinging on her own.

The idea of big-name bands, big dances, big crowds, and big coronations is terrifying.

One of the big dances was so crowded that a Sigma Chi waved to a fraternity brother and had to keep his hand up the rest of the night. A Pi Kap had hiccups and everyone on the floor felt a slight change of pressure with every hick. A Kappa fainted and had to wait until the fifth no-break before she could fall down.

There was a slight consolation in the fact that little energy was required to dance. Several couples just stood up in the middle of the floor and let the mob dance them around all evening.

We hope that there is less fast music. At recent dances instead of one swing and one sway, the bands gave a dozen swings to each way. This is fine for the shaggers, the truckers, the Suzie-Q's, and the big applers, but the fellow who just comes to dance feels like the forgotten man.

The dormitory girls gave a skit the other day. (We always associated skits with Harlem, hi-de-ho, Cab Calloway, Minnie the Moocher, and the Savoy. That just shows how dumb we are.)

The skit was about the nurse at the hall, Miss Desha. According to the girls her remedies consist of soda water and aspirin, no matter what the malady.

Marie Maysey, her face dotted with lipstick to imitate measles, sang this parody on "Bei Mir Bist Du Schon."

My Dear Miss Desha, we've come here to say

We think we're the sickest in the land.

My Dear Miss Desha, don't send us away;

Please help us and say you'll understand.

We think your soda water and your aspirin, too

Might cure the mumps, the measles,

Or maybe the flu.

We guess, Miss Desha, you'll be glad when it's May

But, oh Miss Desha, we think you're grand.

The demise of Miss Maysey was a most difficult operation. Successive applications of witchhazel, alcohol, and cold cream were necessary to remove the lipstick.

RICH, BEAUTIFUL PROSE DEPARTMENT

"The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Vionnet model of ivory Duchess satin, over which fell a double finger-tip veil of illusion, caught with a cornet of orange blossoms.

"The ceremony was performed at one end of the spacious living room against a background of ferns and rosettes of huckleberry foliage, interspersed with white wedding tapers in wrought iron candelabra. A kneeling bench was covered with white satin pillows and on either side were standards holding large alter candles. Candlelight and spring flowers were used throughout the lower floor of the home.

"For traveling the pretty bride wore a Molyneux model dawn blue three-piece suit with blue fox collar. She is an attractive and accomplished bird."

SIDESHOW

A TOUCH of warm weather in February always brings with it a deep nostalgia for summertime; an impatience that bristles at the slowness of season-change. About a week ago there was a tingling radiance of sunlight that made the thought of further cold intolerable. And at night, when still it was not cold enough for overcoats, a glorious moon swimming through the foamy tides of the sky brought longing for sultry June evenings and bathing and crickets' songs. Drowsy sunshine, cool shade; polo shirts and picnics; all the Washington, and ruled to change the area of Nelson county into Washington county. They wanted to go further and tried to enter the union under the title, "State Of Washington."

However, here is where complications set in. At the time, border lines, especially to the east of Kentucky, were intricate. Kentucky's border was interwoven in some tight knots with Virginia's and North Carolina's. There followed a series of dissections and Kentucky was out in the cold.

Samuel M. Wilson, in his book "George Washington's Contacts with Kentucky," attempts to make the matter clearly understood. He explains that Virginia first honored Washington by applying his name to the county which originally included the main portion of Southwest Virginia and lay adjacent to what was shortly afterwards known as Washington county, North Carolina, and since divided into several small counties under the jurisdiction of Tennessee.

Washington county, Virginia, was created December 6, 1776, out of Fincastle county, and at same time Montgomery and Kentucky counties were formed from the same domain.

Thus it was the merest accident that the county which received the name of Kentucky did not get the name of Washington. If it did, the state would have adopted the name, and this school would be the University of Washington.

Petersen Accepts Contract To Cast McVey Memorial

Christian Petersen, nationally known sculptor, has accepted the invitation to design and cast the plaque in which faculty, students and alumni are cooperating to recognize President Frank L. McVey's service to the University and the Commonwealth.

Announcement that Mr. Petersen yesterday by Berkeley Beneson and James S. Shropshire, president and secretary, respectively, of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership fraternity. They said that the fraternity had signed a contract for the work, and that the first payment had been made.

Contributions to the plaque fund are still being received by Dean Paul P. Boyd, chairman of the fund committee. A canvass of campus organizations by student leaders is still under way.

Governing Plans For New Building Await Completion

Completion of the student union building constitution will be delayed until the first of next week due to the absence of Dean Sarah Bland, a committee member, it was announced yesterday.

Dean Bland is attending a meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women in Atlantic City.

All the major points of the constitution have been adopted with only a few minor points remaining to be settled by the constitution committee.

After approval by the constitution committee, the plan must be adopted by the student union committee. Then it will go to President McVey and the Board of Trustees for final approval.

If the constitution is adopted in its present state, members of the board of governors for the building will be elected by a system similar to that used in Cincinnati for appointing city commissioners.

Those pledged are: Harris Rhodes, Ridge; J. Wirt Turner, Jr., New Stanford; Lee Bryan Lanter, Dry Castle; Jason Gilliland, Stanford; and Charles R. Zimmer, Claude Asbury, R. A. Woodall, and Paul Slaton, of Lexington.

Formal initiation ceremonies will be held later in the semester.

Done At Dunn's

By "KIT"

The courting at the Old Town Pump seems to be very popular these days. When the weather is unsuitable for other things the Kappa president, Dorothy Babbitt, spends part of her time sipping cokes with her date. Is he a Delt or could he be mistaken? Question: Who is it that holds a sandwich in his left hand and a cute Tri Delt in the right? Answer: Billy Young. Is the old saying still true about winning a man's heart by his stomach? A. T. O. pledge Jack Cook and Chio Jane Day seem to be doing very well, but will the Sundays hold out? Another couple recognized for this Sunday pastime is Squire Williams and Do Ann Young. (Adv.)

The Peeriscoop

JEAN McELROY

This little take concerns four SAE's who went down to Danville Saturday night for the Beta dance. After the evening's festivities, they, feeling tired and sleepy, betook themselves to search for a place to lay their weary heads.

So repairing to the only hotel that Danville affords, they made their way up and looked around until they came to an unlocked room. It was a beautiful room, with downy beds and things, so the four brethren retired for the night, but not until they had sent numerous bell-boys scurrying about for ice water, radios, and such things. They slept soundly until morning, then walked out.

Nobody knew that they had been there. The spacious room turned out to be the bridal suite, and the manager is quite perturbed about his bill. We wish we could divulge the boys' names, but we have learned our lesson when it comes to SAE's.

Tri-Delt Martha Hume, and Pi Kap Jimmy Graham tried an experiment last week. It seems that she was to wear his pin for a week, and at the end of that time they were to become unsevered without people knowing. Against our better judgment we were forced to withdraw the statement last week, but here it is. Take it for what it's worth.

Sherman Hinkedbin, he of the stalwart frame, has transferred his affections slightly from Jeanne Barker to Daisy Marie Welch, the Dawson Springs darling. He even went so far as to have three no-breaks with her at both the Tri-Delt and the Alpha Gam formal, and is crooning the little ditty of "Daisy, Daisy, give me your answer true." This episode should make Sid Buckley pretty happy about the whole thing.

The Cosmopolitan girl, Gladys Harkness, and Dave Rose with the German haircut have finally gotten around to the pinning stage. It was at the Paddock, of all places, that he asked her if she would wear his badge. When she acquiesced, they found that the diamond shaped object in question was at the SAE house, so they had to make the long walk so that Gladys would be properly jeweled. Do we hear groans from the Chio ranks at this drastic deed?

Since Bob Rounsavall is back in town, Sally Gaitskill, who has been in possession of his security emblem for ages now, is in quite a quandary. What with Johnny Clark in her train while Mary Lee Hop has been flitting around at Cornell house parties, and Walter Hodge being all forsaken down in a Tennessee hospital where he is getting his knee and shoulder mended; things have come to a pretty pass. There is going to be some narrowing down by somebody.

Campus Clutter

Carl Conner, sofa-sitter supreme, has gone into extensive training in order to coach the coed golfing class. It is rumored, but only rumored mind you, that he has even given up smoking other people's cigarettes. . . . Goody Goodman remains true to his Transylvania gal, so the consternation and disgust of several coeds who have been casting affable glances at his muscular charms. . . . For Lloyd Ramsey's information, the blonde who always speaks to him so cordially is Chio Emily Quigley, the flower of N'leams. . . . Phi Tau Stan Hard is trying to elevate his courage enough to ask Louise Watts if he may invite an old Louisville flame down for the Military Ball. . . . Phi

Delt Donald Brown, formerly the affluence of June Lassing, and Virginia Smith are taking the high road these days. . . . Blonde Martha Shipp goes around now with her head in the ether muttering "beautiful, beautiful." The object of this coquettish poesy is the sunset-haired Commons soda mixer, Bill Cheniae, who is quite in the dark about the whole thing. . . . Maybe it didn't get printed or maybe it wasn't written, but anyway Kappa Mary Elizabeth Mills is pinned to Phi Delt Tommy McDonald. . . . Bob "What a Man Ask Me" Triplett, is thinking about changing his name. The recent mails brought a beautiful white sweater to Edgar "Bud" Stevens, with this charming little missile attached, "there's love in every stitch." It was from his gal 'n Prestonsburg. Expressions of young love like that really make us cynical. . . . Dunbar's glamour girls were rudely awakened the other night by a series of ghastly sounds from the Sig Ep porch across the street. Upon investigation they found the racket to be emanating from six of the brethren clinging to the porch rail in dire distress. It looks as though they can not hold their own any more. . . . Virginia Alsop, the many times Doty Babbitt's d-d-devant, Eddie Beck, the other night. He took it very understandingly, but imagine his chagrin when he ran into Alsop and Taber Brewer. Wotta disappointment. . . . Chio Jane Day's sorority sisters must have put on a pound apiece this week. It was all on account of the pounds and pounds of candy she got for Valentine's. . . . Alpha Gam Jane Potter and ATO Pledge Phil Jenkins are doing right well by themselves. It seems rather sudden, but anyway she knew him three days last semester. . . . We understand that Clare Pigott has signed her Declaration of Independence as far as Bill Tracey, The Man From Bluefield, is concerned. . . . All the Alpha Gams thought that Pat "prize pledge" Robertson would ask her practically steady, Barry Malone, to their formal, but she didn't. It was Jack Way, his fraternity brother. . . . Sigma Chi Ted Miller, who was something of a hermit last semester, is really yearning after the gals now. . . . At exactly 10 p. m., everybody in the Canary bar bursts forth into melody. One gal clocked it night after night and it never fails. . . . The truly-married Playmate Hansborough is back in town. That should cause something of a stir. . . . Nellie Rash and Joe Bailey are still hitting the high spots. . . . The whole Delt chapter thinks Mary Fauré, the blonde French lady, is really fine. . . . Betsy May took Bob McNamara to the KD tea dance, and Bill Killea to the dinner afterward. She compensated for it the next day with a date with Mac. . . . The ATO's think Sara Biggs is pretty cute. . . . Jean Ann Overstreet and Jerome "Rainy" Day have called it off as far as she is concerned. She's broken all the dates she has with him so far, for Jimmy Groselose. Jerome is feeling pretty sick about the whole thing. . . . Amelia Talbot and "Slob" Vanaman are all meshed up.

Betty Carol Rhodemeyer is turning her gaze from Edmund Thompson to fraternity brother Clarence McCarroll. . . . Jimmy Green and a Sigma Nu brother became so enraptured with Lillie Berry Clark's little sister at the Alpha Gam dance that they immediately invited her to the Sigma Nu formal. She's 14. . . . Lucy Portmann and Coleman Judy are still going around with that look in their eyes. . . . Jimmy Groselose announces that he is importing a Gawgia peach* for the Military ball. . . . Elaine Allison was in such a devil-may-care mood that the other night she cut all her hair off. . . . Ken Cobb calls Polly Day "Thistle-Bug."

PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI GIVES VIEW REGARDING THE ATHLETIC REORGANIZATION

"The Ligon Reorganization Committee has done an outstanding job and has rendered conspicuous public service that will be readily accepted and heartily approved by devoted and interested alumni all over Kentucky. I have been away for a month and had no part in the various meetings held in all sections of the state, although am glad to state that our Executive committee set up these hearings before my departure and I wish to commend our loyal alumni for the fearless and fair consideration they gave the athletic reorganization question. The foresight, courage, and wise counsel of the alumni no doubt played a strong role in helping the Special Committee to solve this troublesome and complex problem at the University, as the Alumni Association recommendations were followed in main.

"It is my humble opinion that the new plan will work splendidly and I wish to assure alumni everywhere that as a member of the Advisory Council I will fearlessly and zealously, though tactfully and considerately, represent them and as their spokesman on the Council I welcome their suggestions which will be faithfully carried to the deliberations of that body by me.

Gay-zing At Sports

By MARVIN GAY

THE UNIVERSITY'S athletic muddle is rapidly clearing and everyone, with a few exceptions, appears happy with the not unexpected turn of events.

A fitting climax will be reached when the athletic director is announced. Care in the selection of this official should be exercised, as he will wield virtual dictatorial powers under the new athletic plan.

The director should not only be a man familiar with athletics but a business man as well. From all indications, the chief difficulty confronting University athletics is a woeful lack of funds with which to operate.

Rupp, Shively Considered

At least two men, Adolph Rupp and Bernie Shively, are being considered for the arduous task of leading the Wildcats from the football wilderness.

Both these men are well known to students and alumni. Coach Rupp has achieved national fame for his outstanding net teams of the past seven years. At the present time, prior to last night's Vanderbilt game, his five was leading the Big 12 conference, and appears headed for another championship.

Shively, all-American tackle from Illinois, formerly was varsity line coach under Harry Gamage, Wynne's predecessor. With Shively at the helm, the 'Cats had one of the best lines in the South for several consecutive seasons. At the present time, Shively is acting head of the department of physical education.

Six Positions Open

The task of selecting coaches is a difficult one, as the University has been flooded with innumerable applications. Coaching positions that must be filled include a head varsity coach, line coach, end coach, head frosh coach, and two assistant frosh coaches.

Some persons believe that in the event Coach Rupp receives the director post he may elevate Paul McBrayer, present yearling mentor, to the varsity net position. Others are equally as confident that Rupp, because of his love of the game, will decide to continue his coaching duties.

Shively and Ab Kirwan, present tutor at Louisville du Pont Manual High school, are leading contenders for the head varsity job.

"Monk" After Job

Another rumor has it that Claude "Monk" Simons, from over Transy way, is hot after a position. The former all-American Tulane half-back has made an enviable record, especially when one considers his handicaps of inadequate material and money.

While Simons is a young man, that has not been his fault. Transy outfit perform must recognize his ability as he never fails to place a team on the field well versed in the game's fundamentals, blocking and tackling. This always has been, we think, the glaring weakness of past 'Cat elevens.

Miller Boomed

Len Miller, assistant to Ellis Johnson at Morehead college, is being boomed for an assistant coach by some observers.

Rated by many fans as the smartest quarterback ever to wear Blue and White togs, Miller has made rapid strides in the coaching profession, and is considered one of the finest scouts in this section of the country. Throughout his playing days, Miller was hampered by bad knees but gave Gamage invaluable assistance with his suggestions.

Undoubtedly, Miller should be given serious consideration.

Moseley To Leave?

Apparently, Head Frosh Coach Frank Moseley has quit the 'Cat camp and is attempting to secure a position at the Mississippi school. If possible, we believe the former Alabama quarterback should be retained as he has done an excellent job with the greensies. He is a tireless chap who fairly dotes on hard work.

A Clean Slate!

The reorganization committee, composed of President McVey, Professor Ligon, Dean Boyd, "Doc" Rhodes and David Pettus, deserves the praise of everyone interested in the future of the University's athletics.

After long hours of tedious work, the committee gave the public what it most desired—a new plan, with a clean slate from top to bottom.

Dr. Vandembosch Explains Situation In Central Europe

Dr. Amry Vandembosch, head of the political science department, spoke on the "Present Situation in Central Europe" at a meeting of the American student union Monday, in Room 210, McVey hall.

Speaking briefly of an attack of laryngitis, Doctor Vandembosch discussed the attitude of various countries in regard to German control of Austria. This control is another diplomatic defeat for France, he asserted.

Germany's next victim will be Czechoslovakia because the division in the British cabinet will strengthen Germany, and Hitler will take additional steps, said Dr. Vandembosch.

"The mystery of the situation is the Italian attitude toward the new German diplomatic stroke. Have Germany and Italy made an agreement to divide the area of penetration in eastern Europe, or does Italy hope for concessions from England as the price for deserting Germany?" asked Doctor Vandembosch.

will be held at 4:30 p. m. Thursday in Dean Blanding's office.

RUPPS, WITH NO LOSSES, LEAD CONFERENCE

Kittens To Battle Mountaineer Five

Two Games With Cumberland Scheduled For Thursday, Friday Nights

Prior to last night's Vandy game, Coach Adolph Rupp's defending champs appeared headed for another championship as they were leading the Southeastern conference race with no defeats.

The Cats jumped into undisputed possession of first place when Auburn's high flying Plainsmen were upset by Georgia Tech, 42-43.

Kentucky holds decisive wins over Alabama, Vanderbilt and Tennessee. Playing outside the conference, the Rupp's exhibited their best form of the season last week in downing Xavier, 45-29, and Marquette in the last six seconds, 35-32.

If the Cats are to finish their conference slate with a clean record, they must hurdle the much improved Tennessee Vols Saturday night at Knoxville. Last season, the two traditional rivals battled in the finals of the tournament.

Tennessee showed its greatest improvement in submerging Florida, 41-28, and Vanderbilt, 38-26.

A Mississippi forward, Bonnie Graham, smashed the old conference scoring mark by racking up a total of 255 points. Bryant, Louisiana State forward, held the old mark with 209 points.
